Position Summary

Are you looking for a little something extra to add another string to your bow? Show off your skills, learn some new ones, while also helping your Association.

Imagine what it would be like if everyone in your Association knew your face and knew your name. Your profile would instantly be raised amongst your peers.

AAIR is seeking a President to lead the Association into the future. If you are already on the Executive Committee, we would like to encourage you to nominate for the position of President for the term 2018–2020.

This is a fantastic professional development opportunity to increase your knowledge of the sector and gain an in depth understanding of higher education issues at the international and domestic levels.

This is great opportunity for you to advance your own professional development and become more involved in your Association and give back to the institutional research community.

1. Key Responsibilities

The key responsibilities of this role include:

- ▶ leading the organisation and, in conjunction with the Committee, setting the overall direction for AAIR;
- ▶ chairing meetings of the Association and Executive and ensuring the efficient operation of all sub-committees;
- ▶ calling special meetings of the Association and Executive;
- ▶ assisting Officers of the Association, mentoring and evaluating their work as necessary;
- ▶ appointing sub-committee chairs, ensuring sub-committees report regularly on activities, and serving as an ex-officio member of all sub-committees;
- ▶ appointing portfolio leaders (in consultation with Committee members), ensuring portfolio leaders report regularly on activities, and serving as an ex-officio member of all portfolios;
- ▶ representing the Association with relevant government bodies and other professional associations and organisations;
- ▶ maintaining contact with international and national organisations and facilitating the development of alliances with relevant external organisations;
- ▶ acting as authorised spokesperson to make public statements to the media and in other fora on behalf of AAIR; and
- ▶ supervising and managing work undertaken by contract staff and/or employees.

1.1 OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S) responsibilities are outlined in section 5.

2. Selection Criteria

It is a prerequisite that a person who wishes to run for President must have been on the Executive Committee for at least one full two-year term.

3. Benefits

Some benefits to the successful applicant include:

- ▶ hands on involvement in your Association;
- ▶ having a broader profile in the sector;
- ▶ professional development experience to add to your curriculum vitae; and
- ▶ potential flow-on to/from your own work.

4. Other Information

4.1 ABOUT AAIR

The Australasian Association for Institutional Research (AAIR) is the professional association for institutional research practitioners in higher education and other institutions in Australasia.

Established in late 1988, AAIR continues to draw members mainly from Australia and New Zealand, with further members from the Pacific, Southeast Asia, and the African continent. Members contribute to planning, decision making, policy formulation and analysis concerned with the management of tertiary education.

The broad aim of AAIR is to benefit, assist and advance research which leads to the improved understanding, planning and operation of tertiary education institutions within Australasia. AAIR has the following principal objectives:

- ▶ to raise the level of professional competence and practice in the fields of tertiary education institutional research, planning and analysis in the Australasian region
- ▶ to enhance inter-institutional cooperation in the undertaking of comparative institutional research projects
- ▶ to assist the professional development of members by:
 - ▶ organising an annual conference (the AAIR forum)
 - ▶ developing and fostering cooperative links with the AIR and European AIR
 - ▶ encouraging regional meetings of members to augment the annual Forum

AAIR is affiliated with the Association for Institutional Research \(AIR\) in the United States, along with other groups located in Europe, South-East Asia, South Africa and Canada.

4.2 ABOUT INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH

'Institutional research' is viewed as a range of activities involving the collection, analysis and interpretation of information descriptive of an institution and its activities, including its students and staff, programs, management and operations. The findings of such 'institutional research' assist institutional leaders (in both academic and administrative domains) by informing their planning and decision-making.

4.3 GOVERNANCE

The business and affairs of AAIR are managed by the Executive Committee constituted under Rule 23.

The powers and responsibilities of the Executive Committee include managing the business and affairs of the Association, appointing volunteers and sub-committees and delegating any of its duties to such volunteers and sub-committees, and the Committee may appoint staff for a period and on such other terms and conditions as may be determined by the Committee. Appointments are periodically reviewed.

Further information about AAIR and the Executive Committee is available in the Rules at <http://aair.org.au/about/rules>.

5. Occupational Health and Safety (OHS)

All holders of positions with AAIR are required to take reasonable care for their own health and safety. As AAIR has no employees as such, contractors and volunteers in honorary positions are responsible for their own health and wellbeing. All contractors, volunteers and honorary Board members work from their own premises as required by AAIR.
