

Agenda

Conversations During COVID: QILT – SES Open-AAIR Discussion

Thursday 21 May 2020

2–3.30pm AEST

This AAIR conversation will be an interactive session for AAIR members and their colleagues who are interested in engaging in an open-AAIR discussion on how to approach the QILT Student Experience Survey in times of the COVID19 pandemic. AAIR plans to continue to run several sessions on this, given that there is so much to discuss. Lisa Bolton, Tash Vickers and Lauren Spencer will co-facilitate these sessions.

Item for discussion	Who	Duration
Introduction: use of Zoom, plan for today and future sessions	Lisa Bolton, Tash Vickers and Lauren Spencer	5 minutes
What is happening so far for 2020 SES	Lisa Bolton	20 minutes
Discuss scope, sample, timing, additional items at a time	Group discussion	4 x 15-minute timebox per topic
Summary: Key take-outs, actions and topics for meeting 2	Lisa Bolton	5 minutes

Supporting Information

List of potential questions for discussion:

- Will international students who are off-shore be included in SES scope?
- How will changes in academic calendars impact on the sample and timing of the SES? What submission dates should be in scope for SES?
- Is August still suitable for the SES? September for trimesters? Are there institutions this doesn't suit?
- Is the HEIMS definition for study mode (external/internal) accurate or nuanced enough?
- How are survey managers interfacing with stats and data areas around 2020 SES sample in the world of TCSI changes to HEIMS submission dates?
- Are there going to be additional international student items in the main SES?
- What extra information do we need to best analyse QILT SES results or additional items we should ask about in 2020?
- How will we benchmark performance in relation to COVID-19 mitigation strategies? What is important to measure? How do we integrate this into normal institutional practice?